Dear Friends:

Eid Mubarak, and best wishes as you celebrate this special day.

All of you are a testament to how people of all faiths and backgrounds enrich our state and our country. As you know all too well, these are challenging times. Too many Muslim Americans and immigrants face discrimination and hateful attacks, while the White House too often fans the flames of hate, instead of bringing our country together.

That's why celebrations like this one and the work you do in your communities are so important. That's how we fight this hate – through service, through education, and through understanding. Your work fosters friendship, and strengthens the bonds of community in Ohio and around the country.

I wish you all the best on this very special day, and in the year ahead.

Sincerely,

U.S. Senator Sherrod Brown
