PROJECT SPOTLIGHT: Supporting Vulnerable Communities in South Sudan

Violence, political instability, and economic stagnation have left two-thirds of South Sudan's population in dire need of humanitarian assistance. According to experts, more than 80% of the country's population lives in poverty, surviving on less than $1.90 per day. To add, climate-induced disasters such as severe droughts and floods continually ravage the country, leaving devastation in their wake.

Islamic Relief is working to help increase human dignity among the conflict-affected areas in South Sudan through integrated interventions including building sustainable livelihoods, access to clean water and health services, and training on community building.
